PUBLIC COMMENTS - none

MAYOR’S COMMENTS

1. Mayor Kovach has been working with the New Jersey Division of Transportation on traffic issues stemming from accidents on the highway and oversized trucks exceeding weight limits driving through Halstead Street and Center Street. In addition, the complaints from residents as to the length of time it takes to go from the traffic light at Leigh and Old 22 to Exit 15 via West Main Street. Mayor Kovach asked everyone in the packed room to video their experience with cell phones, CAREFULLY, mount your phones, to document their ride! DOT is sending a team to study the situation and will follow up with a meeting in November.
2. Mayor Kovach was asked to attend a County meeting with NJDEP, expressing opposition to the change in designation with the C-1 zone and how it addresses economic impact to the county. Freeholder Director, Suzanne Lagay, Economic Development Director, Marc Saluk, Raritan Township Mayor Kuhl, Pilar Patterson of Hunterdon County and others discussed the costs if we have to expand from a sewer prospective. Currently we are grandfathered in to C1, but if they change to a C2 zone, it will be costly. The Town may be asked to sign on to another letter of opposition.
3. Department of Education has been discussing Lebanon Borough students coming to Clinton Public School as they did years ago when 7 & 8th graders attended. In the early 1980’s, Lebanon Borough students began attending Clinton Township schools. The return of Lebanon students would be a positive impact financially to Clinton Public. Clinton Township challenged it and it is now at the hands of an administrative law judge.

4. The Great Pumpkin Race will be held Friday, October 25 for the release at noon at the falls. Second grade science class students are hard at work carving out little pumpkins into boats to see if they can survive the falls! Three to four children will work together on a “boat” and decorate them with markers, string, popsicle sticks, fabric and duct tape! This is known as a STEAM activity which stands for Science, Technology, Engineering, Art and Math! Fantastic program!!
5. Attended an Economic Development Summit with Ms. Karsh on October 11. Mayor Kovach wanted to focus on the County establishing a Film commission allowing for New Jersey tax credits to companies and businesses for filming TV and movies. A website has been set up and a zizzle reel for film makers to show what Hunterdon has to share. Hopefully we will begin to see some activity!
6. Nancie Greaney, 58 Halstead Street, had two trees behind her property fall into the South Branch. The trees are backing up with debris and leaves which can cause problems. Mayor Kovach was not sure of whose jurisdiction this falls upon so Mr. Phelan will call Ms. Greaney to discuss the removal.
7. Citizen involvement form received from Jendayi Jones, 21 Hillside Drive, interested in the Environmental Commission and has extensive background in the field. Mayor Kovach asked for a motion to appoint Ms. Jones to the Environmental Commission, motion made by Ms. Humphrey, seconded by Ms. Johnson to appoint.

SWEARING IN OF SERGEANT OLLERENSHAW

Mayor Kovach called Sergeant Ollerenshaw to the front of the room for his official swearing in, assisted by his wife, Renee. Mayor Kovach read as Sergeant Ollerenshaw repeated his oath. A round of applause filled the room!

SWEARING IN OF SERGEANT McGUIRE

Mayor Kovach proceeded to call Sergeant McGuire up with his four children! It was a group effort to hold the Bible for their dad while Mayor Kovach read the oath echoed by Sergeant McGuire! Once again lots of applause and congratulations to the gentlemen!

HISTORIC COMMISSION

Roger Mellick, Chairman of the Commission and a member of the Land Use Board, attended this evening with other members of the Commission, Marcia Hansen, Sharon Dysart and Ross Traphagen. Mr. Mellick spoke on behalf of the Commission and presented guidelines for council's consideration. The Commission would like to help homeowners looking to make renovations to their historic homes by presenting them with a history of their home and type of architecture that was original to the home. The Commission is not making it mandatory that a homeowner would have to follow but would like to assist at the owner's request. Mayor Kovach suggested having an architect of historic homes come in and make a presentation to residents that are interested in learning more about them. The Commission is considering making a pamphlet and going door to door offering it to residents. The Commission appreciated receiving guidance from council and will continue to work on the guidelines.

Chief Kubinak

Chief informed Council that the men might start looking a little unkept! There is a “gofundme” campaign starting “No Shave November”. This campaign is being supported by the Clinton Police and the Hunterdon PBA 188 to raise awareness about cancer and men's health. This campaign is in remembrance of Lt. Henry Scott Oldenburg of the Readington Police Department. The Foundation bearing his name was formed to help families in return for the help his family received after his passing of pancreatic cancer in 2008. Folks can show support by going to gf.me/u/waa972. Chief Kubinak stated the one stipulation for the Department is to raise money for the cause, not just give up shaving for the month! Mayor Kovach asked that a before and after photo be taken as well.

Councilwoman Johnson

Board of Recreation – the final design has been reviewed and the commission is moving forward with drafting the grant application to the County for the Open Space funds. The plan is a “grandiose dream plan” and will be executed in phases. Community and other commissions will be asked to help! The current playground is over 30 years old and needs updating and ADA compliance. The plan also needs some tweeking. A very big ticket item are the tennis courts coming in at approximately $200,000 for the paving, fencing, drainage and lighting. It is questionable as to how many people actually use the courts. Mr. Humphrey asked if Council could see a copy of the plan at the next meeting? Ms. Johnson will have copies for council's review.

Asked if there was a date for the Yuletide Bonfire, Ms. Johnson said not at this time. Will report back when decided.

Councilman Humphrey

The Red Mill is having a banner year with the Haunted Mill!

Economic Development Commission – meeting is tomorrow night, October 23, 2019 at 7:30 p.m. Ms. Intrabartola asked if the Commission could look at their site which will appear on the new website. County held their 1st annual summit today and attendees came from around the County and the State. The newly formed Tourism Commission was discussed as well as the Film Commission. Clinton is getting lots of attraction and branding in the State. NJ.com interviewed Mayor Kovach and Councilwomen Dineen and Karsh about the Economic Development Commission and the re-development projects.

Councilwoman Dineen
